Farmer Has Tough Row To Hoe, Editors Of District Newspapers Learn At Meeting

Farming is big business!

That one fact was left with editors of district newspapers when they were guests of the rural-urban planning committee of the Columbiana County Agricultural Council at an all-day meeting in the Christian Church at Lisbon Friday.

If any of the newspapermen came to the meeting with the idea that farming was just a simple operation of raising crops, milking cows and reaping fabulous market returns, their education in agriculture was broadened as the result of the talks and panel discussions which the farm leaders presented.

AND, IF ANY of the farmers came to the meeting thinking that the editors aren't aware of the farmers' problems, they soon discovered that the newspapermen were pretty understanding fellows at that.

The morning and afternoon sessions were interrupted by a bountiful dinner of food raised on farms in Columbiana County.

County Agent Floyd Lower presided over the day's program which was attended by some 50 persons.

Principal speakers and panel discussion leaders were Donald Rupert of New Waterford, who spoke on grains; Eldon R. Groves of Salem, the dairy industry; I. P. Lewis of New Waterford, a prominent orchardist; C. T. Newsom, manager of the Northeast Ohio Poultry Association at Columbiana, a farm co-op; William Knuth, manager of the Firestone Farms at Columbiana, who discussed vegetable growing, and Elbert Agnew or Boardman, president of the Mahoning-Columbiana County Potato Growers Association.

MODERATOR for the panel discussion was Chester Roof, former assistant county agent now associated with the Farmers National Bank.

Others attending from Salem were Mrs. Maurice Sadler and Mrs. Clemmer Greenisen of the Salem Federation of Women's Clubs; Miss Josephine Dunn, representing the farmers organization; Ray Dean, editor of The Salem News, and J. T. Darling, publisher of the Farm & Dairy.

Farmers are constantly aware of the consumers' demands with respect to marketing preferences and the packaged fruit, vegetables and poultry in the stores today are the result of that observation.

"Mrs. Housewife" is the boss when it comes to marketing, it was pointed out.

Even potatoes are likely to appear on the markets soon in transparent bags, it was predicted.

THE FARMER with a high investment in crops and machinery, is constantly striving to do a more efficient job through increased productivity, development and research, it was learned.

Farming, too, has become more specialized. With everything at stake, he's either in it or he's out. Fluctuating markets constantly

$3000 In Jewelry Stolen Here

Thieves Take Rings, Watches At Konnerth's

Dr. Mangus Home Also Reported Hit By Burglars

Diamond rings and Elgin watches valued at approximately $3,000 were stolen from the Konnerth Jewelry Store on E. State St. sometime Friday night, Edward Konnerth, the proprietor, reported to police today.

The exact number of watches and rings taken was not immediately determined by the owner, who who said the valuables were covered by insurance.

The burglary case was one of two reported to police today. Dr. Frank Mangus of 925 Home Circle told officers that $135 in cash was taken from his home Friday evening.

Mr. Konnerth reported to police that he discovered a number of rings missing from a showcase in his establishment when he opened the business this morning. The safe also had been opened, he said, and some watches removed.

Police reported they could find no visible means of entry into the store. The safe, they said showed no signs of having been tampered with and either had been left unlocked or had been dialed open.

Police reported they could find no trace of fingerprints on the safe or showcase.

Dr. Mangus reported to police that $135 was stolen from an upstairs desk in his home sometime between 6:15 p.m. Friday and 12:45 a.m. today. The money had been brought home from his office and deposited in the desk last night, he said.

Police reported a downstairs desk drawer had been opened by the intruders but nothing taken.

A storm window in a garage adjoining the house had been removed, police said, and entrance into the home made through a connecting door which had been left unlocked.

WHAT GOES ON?—Two calves survey the damage done to the farm home and outbuildings of their owner, Jack Crohn, near Muncie, Ind., after a twister hit during the night. The farm was in the path of a wind storm that whipped across north central Illinois and Indiana.

Some Americans May Be Freed By Wednesday

Speedy Agreement Increases Hope For Complete Truce

MUNSAN (AP)—The road back home opened wide today for 120 American prisoners of the Korean War, 480 other Allied captives and thousands of Communists—all sick or wounded. The first of them will start the joyous journey perhaps as early as next Wednesday.

An historic agreement, made possible by the thaw in world-wide communism and negotiated and signed in six swift days at Panmunjom, pledged the first prisoner exchange of the 33-months-old Korean War.

It may have laid the foundation, too, for armistice in Korea.

Presses For Negotiations

The Communist spokesman at the signing ceremony today in the tiny truce village of Panmunjom pressed impatiently for resumption of the full-scale armistice talks. They have been deadlocked for a year and suspended since Oct. 8 over the last big issue of exchanging war prisoners.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho told the Allied liaison team:

"Our side considers that the plenary session of the delegations of both sides should be resumed immediately to discuss and settle the entire question of prisoners of war so as to realize an armistice in Korea."

U. S. Rear Adm. John C. Daniel said the U. N. Command in Tokyo would give an answer.

Gen. Mark Clark, U. N. Far East commander, already has said the truce talks can be resumed after settlement of the disabled prisoner exchange.

But the exchange of sick and wounded captives, some of them undoubtedly prisoners since the first days of the Korean War nearly three years ago, was the big job for the moment.

American engineers raced a deadline to complete roads and camps within the receiving zone at Panmunjom before Tuesday. Doctors, nurses and corpsmen waited eagerly 10 miles away at

Child Killed, 13 Hurt In Collision

Truck Crashes School Bus; Driver Is Held

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Seven-year-old Joyce Haimerl, on her way to spend the night at the home of second-grade classmates, was killed Friday when a heavy truck crashed into a loaded school bus near here.

Twelve other children and the woman bus driver were injured.

Joyce and her friends, Linda and Lee Cummings, had just stepped from the bus when the truck plowed into it.

The truck buried its front end through five rows of seats, and the locked vehicles bounded 200 feet down the road, sideswiping two automobiles. The truck driver, Jacob F. Dahms, 34, Covington, Ky., was held for investigation.

Coroner Robert A. Evans said Joyce died of a fractured neck and multiple internal and external injuries.

None of the other children was hurt seriously.

The bus driver, Mrs. Elmadine Phillips, 41, of Grove City, received a serious neck injury and was listed in fair condition at Grant Hospital.

Mrs. Dell Cummings, mother of Linda and Lee, said Joyce had been wanting to go home with Linda for a long time.

"This morning her mother called, and I told her we'd be happy to have Joyce come home with Linda after school tonight," she told a reporter.

Officers quoted Dahms as saying his brakes failed.

The accident occurred on Ohio 3 just south of Columbus. The bus was from Jackson Twp., School in Grove City. The truck was owned by William Enderlein & Co. of Cincinnati.

Municipal Judge Rodney Ross set a $25,000 bond on Dahms.

Wife Divorces Downed U.S. Ace

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A U. S. double air ace, Capt. Harold Fischer, was divorced the same day the Communists shot him down and reported capturing him.

Mrs. Dorothy Fischer charged the jet fighter pilot with unspecified mental cruelty. The decree, disclosed yesterday, was granted last Tuesday.

That same day 27-year-old Capt. Fischer, one of the two hottest aces in Korea, was reported missing. The Peiping radio said he parachuted from his plane and was caught.

The Swea City, Ia., pilot, who shot down 10 Russian-built MIGs in previous sorties, was on his 70th mission.

FIRE DESTROYS INN

SARDINA, O. (AP)—Fire destroyed the Crossroads Inn Friday at U. S. 62 and Ohio 74, five miles east of this Brown County community. Loss was estimated at $15,00 to $20,00.

Ammo Probe To Bring Shakeup Of Military Buying, Byrd Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va) predicted today the entire management set-up in the armed services will be overhauled as a result of a Senate investigation of ammunition shortages in Korea.

The Virginian said the ammunition inquiry has revealed an unbelievable lack of good business management.

"I intend to follow this thing through and see that it is done," Byrd said. Then he added with a grin: "And I think everybody knows I'm not accustomed to starting something I don't finish."

He said he was convinced businessmen should be put in charge of handling military contracts and deliveries of goods. The military would still have the right to "say what they need," he added.

Byrd went on to say in an interview he was convinced the people of the nation "are thoroughly disgusted with the business management of the armed services." He said he was confident the new secretary of the Army, Robert Stevens, would get results in his department.

Byrd's remarks grew out of a Senate armed services subcommittee inquiry which has revealed there was no real ammunition production in this country until two years after the Korean War began.

Testimony has been given that during this two-year period, the Army used reserve stocks left over from World War II and seriously depleted these stocks in certain types of shells.

Yesterday Byrd said that, if the

Arraignment Of Prisoners Set April 27

LISBON — Arraignment day for the 10 prisoners indicted by the grand jury Friday has been scheduled Monday, April 20.

Trials will follow during the week of April 27.

The jurors ignored charges against nine defendants.

Two of the 10 true bills yesterday were secret indictments—one for non-support and the other for embezzlement.

Prosecutor James L. MacDonald announced that the grand jury probably will be recalled in about six weeks to consider several other cases which developed late.

One is a second degree murder charge filed against an East Liverpool man. The other is a second degree manslaughter charge filed against John Korak, 23, of Mansfield, a sailor, whose car struck and killed John Kirk, 34, of Homeworth, on Easter Sunday.

Among the cases ighored by the grand jury were statutory rape charges against Orville Dayton and Leonard Montanna, both of Salem; Walter H. Cook, of Salem, driving while intoxicated; George W. Whistlar Jr. of Negley, assault and battery; Clarence Smith of Columbiana, non-support; William R. Biggins of East Palestine, non-support, and Dale F. Cope of Columbiana, embezzlement.

Thomas H. Snyder of Columbiana was foreman of the grand jury.

Wheat Crop May Result In Market Quotas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The winter wheat crop forecast has heightened the possibility that marketing quotas, the first since 1943, may be imposed on next year's crop.

The Agriculture Department Friday forecast the crop at 714,154,000, up more than 100 million from its December estimate. Spring wheat was not estimated, but the government already has indicated it may run 310 million bushels.

If such a total wheat crop of more than a billion bushels actually develops, it would be large enough to require Secretary of Agriculture Benson to invoke marketing quotas on next year's crop. There are already on hand large reserves from past crops.

Reporting on the general crop situation, the Agriculture Department said an early spring had set farm planting off to a favorable start in most areas. This fact might foreshadow bumper yields of other crops that already are near the surplus level.

Stocks of livestock feed grains on farms April 1 were reported to be nearly one-fourth larger than a year ago and 8 per cent above average.

Mario Lanza Fired By MGM Studio

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mario Lanza, fired yesterday by MGM, says that "at the proper time and before the proper forum, all of the details will be revealed. I am confident that the decision will be in my favor."

Studio head Dore Schary said in announcing the tenor's dismissal: "Lanza has been shown every consideration over the months 'The Student Prince' has been scheduled and rescheduled at an increasing financial loss."

The frequent postponements over the past year have cost the studio $800,000, Schary estimated. He said Lanza made demands not covered by his choice of starting dates, April 13 or May 5, for the picture. Schary said this was the main reason for ending Lanza's contract.

Riot Reported In Minnesota Prison Block

STILLWATER, Minn (AP)—Rioting broke out in Stillwater Prison shortly after 9 a. m. today.

Prisoners began smashing windows in the north cell block of the big prison.

Eating utensils were thrown by the screaming convicts into the prison yard.

Acting Warden Carl Jackson said a wave of "growing arrogance" was sweeping through the 1,000 convicts.

All of the prisoners were locked in their cells earlier this morning when prison officials learned through the "grapevine" that the convicts were planning their third sitdown strike since Tuesday.

The prisoners refused to work Tuesday and Wednesday, demanding the ouster of the prison chef. They claimed liver patties served to them at their Tuesday noon meal were "green and rotten."

Potters Union Tells Results Of Primary

EAST LIVERPOOL, O. (AP) — James M. Duffy of East Liverpool, now serving his 12th two - year term as president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, will be opposed in the union's May election by Frank Hull of Huntington Park, Calif.

The AFL union made this announcement today in disclosing the results of primary balloting. Officers elected next month will be seated at the union's June convention.

Hull, a western representative of the brotherhood who formerly lived here, has been second vice president but withdrew from that race to run against Duffy.

The nominees for the second vice presidency are Fred H. McGilivray, East Liverpool, and George Pace, Huntington Park.

For the other nine vice presidencies, the slate includes the incumbent and one opponent. They include with the incumbent listed first:

First — E. L. Wheatley, Trenton, N. J., and Larry Finlay, East Liverpool; third — James T Slavin and E. C. Armstrong, both of East Liverpool; six — Frank Dales, East Liverpool, and Bernie Rowbottowm, Redlands, Calif.; seventh — James Banker, Tiffin, and Leonard Grece, Beaver Falls, Pa.; eighth — Clyde Jones, Sebring, and Guy Digman, East Liverpool.

VISITS TREASURER'S OFFICE

LISBON — Miami County Treasurer Murlon Isenbarger visited Vincent C. Judge Thursday to inspect the utility-type tax bill used by Columbiana county. This is the only county in the state using the simplified statements.

ST. PAUL'S CHAMPION SPELLERS journeyed to East Liverpool this afternoon to enter the Columbiana County parochial spelling bee finals. Left to right, are Judith Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fisher of E. State St.; Joseph Bryan, son of Mrs. Mary Bryan of N. Lincoln Ave.; and Maureen Gonda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Gonda. The winner of the parochial event today will advance to the district finals at Steubenville May 1. The Salem News, East Liverpool Review and Steubenville Herald-Star sponsor the contest annually.

24 Contestants To Compete In Rural School Word Bee Monday

While their schoolmates are out playing this weekend, 24 students will be hard at work preparing for the country rural school system's Spelling Bee finals Monday morning at 9:45 at New Waterford High School.

Twelve in the seventh and eighth grades will compete for the two places which will qualify them for the finals at Steubenville May 1, while a similar field from the fifth and sixth grades will vie for the county junior title.

Virginia Fabola from Summitville was winner of the bee last year. Sally Sump of Unity was second.

Winners last year in the younger section were Sara Grace Cheatwood of No. 16 School and Patty Converse of Fairfield School.

The 24 new contestants were selected the past two weeks at district bees held at West Point, Highlandtown, Knox and Fairfield.

James L. McBride, county superintendent, said the County Board will present certificates to district winners, and medals to the top two in each division at the county meet.

The winner advances to the Steubenville finals May 1, a contest sponsored by The Salem News, East Liverpool Review and Steubenville Herald-Star.

Judges will be Rev. George Ramsey, Mrs. Wayne Rupert and Mrs. Dale Wolfgang, all of New Waterford.

Cherry Blossom Queen To Be Janet Bailey

WASHINGTON (AP)—Janet Kaye Bailey of Akron, Ohio's sesquicentennial queen, will get a second crown today from Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The 18-year-old blonde University of Akron freshman was picked as queen of Washington's Cherry Blossom Festival by the spin of a wheel at the festival ball Friday night.

"How much luck can anyone have!" exclaimed Miss Bailey when the wheel stopped at her name. There were 53 names on the wheel—one for each state, territory and the District of Columbia—and several blank spaces.

Attorney General Herbert Brownell spun the wheel. The first time it stopped on a blank space. The second time it stopped at Ohio.

Mrs. Eisenhower will crown Miss Bailey at 2 p. m. in a ceremony at Jefferson Memorial near the capital's famous cherry trees. The trees bloomed early and few blossoms are left, but the committee claims 500,000 visitors are in the city for the festival.

Miss Bailey will be crowned for a second time Sunday afternoon by movie star Gloria Dehaven. Sunday's pageant will end the five-day celebration.

5th Atom Test Of Spring Held

Blast Shock Reported Lighter Than Usual

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—An experimental atomic device was detonated at 4:45 a. m. PST today atop a 100-foot tower at the Yucca Flat Proving Ground and the Atomic Energy Commission announced "desired effects were obtained."

No other details were given.

The explosion, fifth of the spring test series, did not seem as forceful as some of the previous shots.

The orange-flaring blast produced a relatively small white cloud over the test sight 75 miles northwest. The cloud was not visible here, although smoke from most previous shots have been.

This was the first time the AEC has announced use of a 100-foot tower. Most previous tower blasts have utilized a 300-footer. No reason for today's switch was given.

Neither troops, cars nor animals were involved in the experiment. All have been used in previous shots in the series.

The sound wave, reaching here some seven minutes after the blast, was heard here as two separate low rumbles. No shock wave was felt here.

Meanwhile, at a press conference Friday, the AEC made some new disclosures.

One is that between 60 and 70 large trees will be moved to the proving ground between April 13 and 23 in readiness for a later test. They are coming from Lee Canyon near Mount Charleston, an AEC spokesman said.

Radiation from test No. 2 on March 24 contaminated a three-mile stretch of Yucca Flat. The contamination was such that preparations for an explosion originally planned for today had to be postponed.

Police Arrest Four On Traffic Charges

Four drivers, including two 16-year old Salem boys, were arrested on traffic charges by police Friday night and early this morning.

The local youths, cited for reckless operation after they were stopped by police at 12:40 a.m. today on E. Third St., were turned over to juvenile authorities. Police said the boys were racing their cars.

Arthur E. Luginbuhl, 28, of Alliance was cited for passing another vehicle over the railroad tracks at 11:35 p.m. Friday at the W. State St. crossing.

James L. Hyink, 18, of Lisbon, was charged with reckless operation following his arrest at 12:05 a.m. today on N. Ellsworth Ave.

JAIL BILL $1,262

Study Soviet Plan To End Air Incidents

BERLIN (AP)—America, Britain and France are giving "serious consideration" to a Russian plan for ending cold war plane incidents by establishing one big air corridor to Berlin, Allied officials said today.

A three-part Soviet proposal submitted by Air Force Lt. Gen. I. D. Podgorny here last Tuesday is now being studied by government experts in Washington, London and Paris.

The West's answer may be ready next week.

The Soviet plan, developed after two MIG jet fighters shot down a British bomber on the East-West interzonal frontier March 12 and killed all seven crewmen, includes these points:

1. One big corridor, 90 kilometers (56 miles) wide at its narrowest point. It would be run between Hannover and Berlin for all Western air traffic with this isolated city and would replace three corridors each 20 miles wide. Thele have connected Berlin with Hamburg, Bueckeburg, and Fulda in West Germany since the end of the war.

2. Allied military aircraft of any type would be permitted to fly in the big corridor—if they are unarmed. But all armed Allied planes would be banned.

3. Routine flying in the big corridor would be at altitudes between 1,000 and 5,000 feet, compared to altitudes of to 7,500 feet now generally used in the small corridors.

God Will Take Care Of You

A boy inspires his parents

Mrs. Martin was frail and her health was never very good. To cancel preaching engagements, because of his wife's health, was nothing new to the Rev. W. Stillman Martin. He never knew when Mrs. Martin would have another setback. But in 1904, when the Baptists held a Bible School in New York, Mrs. Martin felt up to the trip. So, with their small son, the minister and his wife went to the big city. They would take a vacation and attend the Bible School at the same time.

In addition to preaching and evangelistic work, W. Stillman Martin was an accomplished composer and editor of church music. In 1904 he was getting out a new songbook. So, on the trip to New York, he carried some of his manuscripts along. When he wasn't sightseeing or at the Bible School, the Rev. Martin got some time in on his new book.

Word got around that W. Stillman Martin was in town. Came one preaching appointment after another. What had started out to be a semi-vacation turned into a round of engagements. Came time one Sunday morning to fill another pulpit. But Mrs. Martin had another setback. Martin would call the host minister and tell him he couldn't make it. He reached for the telephone. Weighed by indecision, he hesitated.

"Won't God take care of mother while you're gone?" their 9-year-old son asked.

The Rev. Martin looked at his wife. She looked at him. She nodded approvingly. Martin put the receiver back on the hook.

When he returned from delivering his sermon, W. Stillman Martin found his wife better, much better. She handed him an old envelope on the back of which she had written a poem. That afternoon, Martin wrote a tune for it and put it in with other songs for his new book.

Thereafter, until she died in Atlanta, in 1948, Mrs. Martin (she signed her poems with her maiden name initials, "C. D.") wrote hundreds of gospel songs. But, except for "His Eye Is On the Sparrow," her first is best known.

Be not dismayed, whate'er betide;
God will take care of you;
Beneath His wings of love abide,
God will take care of you.

Thro' days of toil when heart doth fail,
God will take care of you;
When dangers fierce your path assail,
God will take care of you.

All you may need He will provide,
God will take care of you;
Nothing you ask will be denied,
God will take care of you.

No matter what may be the task,
God will take care of you;
Lean, weary one, upon His breast,
God will take care of you.

CHORUS:
God will take care of you,
Thro' every day, o'er all the ways;
He will take care of you,
God will take care of you.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Put Your Mind To Work

The most successful people I know are those who have put their minds to work for them. No amount of physical labor, doorbell ringing or expenditure of time can absence of creative thinking, which often represents the difference between failure and success in any venture.

Dr. Peale

All creative thinging amounts to is stimulating the imagination. Alec Osborn, of the famous advertising firm of Benton, Barton, Durstine and Osborn, has called this process "waking up the mind." Robert Campbell, a professor at the University of Nebraska, actually teaches a course in which anyone can learn the techniques of putting your mind to work.

One writer, my good friend G. Lynn Sumner, the author of a book called "How I Learned the Secrets of Success in Advertising," includes a chapter in his volume on how to use your imagination which stresses a number of the principles I have always advocated.

Lynn Sumner is well qualified to write on the use of the imagination. His own imagination, effectively trained and used, brought forth many of the International Correspondence School's famous advertisements with their much-quoted headlines. Remember: "Here's an extra $50, Grace — I'm making real money now!"

ANOTHER OF Sumner's famous campaigns was one he outlined in 1931 for a cosmetics manufacturer. The manufacturer turned him down but, in 1939, called him in to say that he had never forgotten the plan becuase of its imaginativeness and told him to go ahead with it. The result was the beauty course with its before and after pictures which Americans found advertised in everything they read in the 1940s.

Sumner believes that your best ideas come to you through your subconscious. In the normal processes of thinking you use only the merest surface of your mind, but, in the subconscious, the deep thought processes go on all the time, whether you are awake or asleep. He urges you, therefore, to "feed' your subconscious just as you feed your stomach and outlines four steps for so doing:

1. Define your specific problem What are you looking for, what are you trying to solve?

2. Assemble in your mind all the known facts which bear on your problem. What have you learned, read or gathered in research?

3. Think about these facts, in a concentrated effort.

4. Then put them aside to grow in your subconscious.

Having fed your mind, relax and set yourself at ease so that your mind may perform its functions more easily. If you're going to bed at eleven, for example, finish this process of "feeding" your mind at nine. The interval of two hours will give the assembled material time to pass from the surface of the mind, where it only agitates, to the subconscious levels, where it becomes creative.

IF YOU HAVE trouble sleeping and the problems you're trying to solve disturb you, remind yourself that God has helped you through every day before this and that tomorrow will be no exception. There's a line from an old hymn you can repeat: "So long Thy power has blest me, sure it still will lead me on." This should give you a comfortable relaxed feeling.

The poet Milton found this technique so effective that the material he fed his mind would erupt in verse during the night and he would awake to call his daughters to come and take dictation so that he might lost none of it.

"Feed" your imagination and put your mind to work. Ask God for the relaxation you need to make your subconscious most productive and you will get new ideas that can change your life.

At Friends Church

Gil Dodds

Gil Dodds, head track and cross country coach at Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill., and famed track star, will speak at the First Friends Sunday School and church services tomorrow. His talk will be a feature of Youth Emphasis Day at the Sunday School.

Dubbed the "Flying Parson" and the "King of the Milers" by sportswriters, Dodds climaxed a brilliant track career on Jan. 31, 1948 when he raced to a new world record for the indoor mile at the Millrose Games in New York City's Madison Square Garden, covering the distance in four minutes, five and three-tenths seconds. It was the fastest competitive mile ever run by any American, indoors or out.

Columbiana

Form Auxiliary To City Hospital

Mrs. Clyde Richardson Is Named President

COLUMBIANA — A Columbiana branch of the Salem City Hospital Auxiliary was organized with a membership of about 50 at a meeting at Valley Golf Club Wednesday afternoon, attended by some 60, including several members of the Salem Auxiliary.

The Columbiana branch auxiliary had at one time 86 members, and the present movement aims at its revival. Several from Leetonia were among those who signed up, and ladies from other towns in this vicinity will be welcome.

Another meeting will be held on Monday afternoon, April 20, the place to be announced.

Paul Ross, Columbiana member of the hospital board, explained the needs, which have increased to an extent that the Salem Auxiliary is unable to meet them. The need help in general sewing, mending and making bandages. Meetings for the purpose will be held once a month.

Officers of the new organization are: Mrs. Clyde Richardson, Sr., president; Mrs. Fred Detwiler, first vice president; Mrs. Clyde Barrow, second vice president; Mrs. George Cannon, secretary; Mrs. Wilbur Ward, treasurer.

FOUR SCHOOL BUS loads of Fairfield School students in the fourth through the eighth grades went to Youngstown yesterday to hear a symphony orchestra.

Deacons of the Presbyterian Church will hold a reception in Westminster hall at 4 p.m. Sunday for all new members who have united with the church in the last year. All members of the church are invited.

NEW OFFICERS were installed for York Drexler Post, V.F.W., on Thursday evening, by Robert Stewart, a past commander. They are: Robert Keslar, commander; Don McBride, senior vice commander; Harry Larch, junior vice commander; Robert Blake, quartermaster; William Lodge, judge advocate; Earl Keslar, chaplain; Glen Dickens, surgeon; Theron Glenn Caldwell, trustee for three years; Raymond Gleckler, trustee for one year.

Miss Elinor L. Knox, daughter of Mrs. Dessie Knox of the East Fairfield-Lisbon Rd., and Pfc. Ernest L. Ankeny of Kensington, this county, were married at Gatesville, Texas, March 12.

The bride, who is employed in the office of the National Rubber Machinery Co., in Columbiana, is a graduate of the High School at Logan, O., class of '48.

The bridegroom, who has been serving as a cook with the 22nd Training Co. at North Fort Hood, Texas, expects to resume work at the Mullins plant in Salem after his discharge from the Army in May.

Junior High spring rally of Presbyterian young people of Mahoning Presbytery will be held in the Canfield Presbyterian Church from 3 to 7 p.m. Sunday.

Past Noble Grands Club will meet at 8 p. m. Monday. Mrs. H. W. Hammond, Mrs. P. R. Corey, Mrs. Anna Walker, and Mrs. Robert Snyder are the committees.

Mrs. Stewart Brown will be hostess for the April meeting of the Sorosis Club in the public library at 8 p.m. next Wednesday, when "travel night" will be observed. Dr. C. W. Dewalt and Russell Barrow will show colored slides of their trip to Hawaii following their attendance at the world convention of Kiwanis in Seattle last summer, and Homer Gilchrist will show views photographed while on a trip last summer to the Northwest and Alaska.

Niles Resident To Aid Fight On Obscene Books

YOUNGSTOWN, O. (AP)—Youngstown Police Chief Edward J. Allen said today he has received $5 from a Niles resident to help him fight a court case concerning his campaign against books he considers "obscene."

The chief has been sued by the new American Library of World Literature for $3,500 on the firm's claim he libeled its pocket sized books. The publisher also asked Federal Court in Cleveland to issue an injunction against the Youngstown drive.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Blood Pressure Explained

"I have often wondered," writes M.C., "what is meant by blood pressure. Mine was taken some time back when the reading was 114-70. At the fair I had it taken again on a dare, and the reading was 110-68. I am 69 years old and in good health.

Dr. Jordan

The blood pressure which M.C. reports is indeed good for a woman of 69. It may also be said that the difference between the two is of no significance. However, since there are many people who seem quite vague about what blood pressure is, and what keeps it where it should be, or makes it go up and down, this subject seems well worth a discussion.

Perhaps the best way of doing this is to liken it to other processes with which we are all familiar.

When water runs through a hose it presses on the inside of the tube. How hard it presses depends on how much water is going through it, the force or pressure of the stream at the entrance, the size of the hose, the size of the exi opening, the material of which the hose is composed, and other things.

It is much the same with blood pressure. The heart is the pump which forces the blood into the hose or blood vessels. When the heart contracts it pumps the blood out and into the arteries and this forces the pressure on the walls of the arteries to go up. When the heart relaxes for a moment, the pressure in the arteries drops.

The high pressure point is called the systolic pressure, and the low points the diastolic. These are the two figures which the doctor takes and expresses as 120 over 80 or with similar numbers.

But just like water running through the hose, it isn't only the force with which the blood enters the arteries that influences the blood pressure. If the arteries are narrowed — and this can be the result of hardening from deposits or from contractions caused by nervousness — the pressure will be higher than if they were soft and relaxed.

One of the most remarkable things about the blood pressure is how it is affected by the nerves. Excitement, worry, anger, and other emo ions send the pressure skyrocketing. The pressure is almost always higher the first time the doctor takes it than it is later on. Even an exciting conversation will cause the pressure to go up.

Since many of us are being constantly bombarded by worries and annoyances there is always something keeping us stirred up. This, added to the fact that more and more people are living longer, has made high blood pressure a problem to more people than ever before.

Leetonia

Walk Repairs Needed; Bids Are Sought

LEETONIA — Frank Thorndell, who was engaged by the sidewalk committee of the village council to inspect sidewalks, made his report at the meeting Wednesday evening on their condition.

More than half of the walks in the village are defective, unsafe and need replaced. Council are asking contractors to submit bids for replacing sidewalks to the village clerk before the next meeting, April 22.

Double parking on Main, Chestnut and Walnut Streets is prohibited except for trucks which are loading or unloading.

No Common Denominator

One of the realizations which will grow out of American refusal to waste time on such U.N. activites as treaties on human rights, women's rights, labor policies etc. is the folly of trying to do by law what can be done only through ethics.

There can be no common denominator in human practices ranging from cannibalism to estheticism. The personal dignity of free men in the United States cannot be reconciled with the denial of personal dignity by a dictatorship like the Soviet Union.

There can be no agreement, no splitting of differences, except at the expense of the highest groups. There can be no compromise with evil. There can be nothing traded away or set aside for the sake of appeasing another society with lower standards.

These things which seem so obvious when examined with an eye to their possible effect on civilizations with high standards have been obscured during recent years.

Under the New Dealers there was a sickly and warped preoccupation with the theory that the lowest human standards could be raised if the highest standards were lowered; that the world could split its differences; that the United States could get along with the Soviet Union by yielding some of its principles.

Hence, the abortive U.N. effort to frame a "covenant of human rights" which would be at the same time agreeable to the Soviet Union and the United States. Hence, the insane notion that if everybody had a legal right to meddle with everybody else there would be a net gain for civilization.

This was the theory of FEPC broadened to cover the world. Fortunately, it has been abandoned. Secretary of State Dulles has instructed Mrs. Oswald B. Lord, U.S. delegate to the United Nations Comimssion on Human Rights that this government has no intention of ratifying a common denominator which would lower its standards of freedom and human dignity. Since no other denominator is possible, the issue now is sterile.

Nothing Without A Reason

Most meaningful of all Kremlin decisions since Stalin's death, as Eddy Gilmore, dean of Moscow correspondents, points out, is the amnesty to political prisoners.

Here was something calculated to have an effect on Russians. It was not a propaganda gesture for effect outside Russia. Nothing in government is done without a reason. Anything in Russia which eases pressure on interior politics is automatically of first-rate significance.

After the collapse of the Panmunjom negotiations, Americans vowed never to be taken in again by the flutter of doves' wings. That was a sensible resolution.

The Soviet Union, contrary to the impression that it alone knows what it is doing and all other nations improvise their policies, is not the only government which calculates the effect of its actions.

History undoubtedly will point out, with the benefit of hindsight, that the United States someimes knew what it was doing, too. It will point out in all probability that the United States had the Kremlim guessing overtime in the spring of 1953; that nothing was done in Washington without a reason, either

After The Wolf Call

After the little boy who had colled, "Wolf!" too often finally saw a real wolf and no one would listen to him in time to avert a disaster, everybody listened to him.

Thereafter, all he had to do was whisper, "Wolf"—and everybody peered into the shrubbery under the bed and in dark corners of the U. S. State Department. They were taking no more chances with wolves.

But, thus emboldened, the little boy began to utter wolf calls all the time. He couldn't handle the prestige which success had bestowed on him. He wanted to keep himself in the spotlight.

This annoyed people who had a strong sense of propriety, but the wise men among them advised them not to show their irritation. They explained that time had a way of taking care of such situations, and they were right.

The little boy ran out of wolves. He couldn't even find any more in the State Department

You can fool some of the people all of the time if you haven't fooled all of the people all of the time—but you'd better not fool 'em too often or they'll get themselves a new boy And there were no substitutes. In due time, no one worried about him any more.

A California man swallowed a thumbtack while hanging a calendar for his wife. Now he has a date with a doctor.

It's funny how you can get wrong ones when so many right numbers work at the telephone exchange.

It's no good to get paid for what you know when it's only the lowdown on the big boss.

Korean Decision

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Will Principle Give Way To Appeasement?

A first-class mystery revolving around an off-the-record conference with several newspapermen by a person in the confidence of the Eisenhower administration has stirred up a series of denials and counterdenials as to what the future policy of the United States is going to be toward a divided Korea and the status of Formosa.

First of all, it may be said that, whatever the explorations or discussions inside the administration, no conclusions have been reached. The White House denial of a New York Times story used that very language as follows:

"The administration has never reached any conclusion that a permanent division of Korea is desirable or feasible or consistent with the decisions of the United Nations."

Dispatches from Washington to the New York Times and other newspapers, which came from a responsible source who gave the information but would not allow himself to be quoted or identified—indicated that in a future negotiation the United States might be willing to let the boundary between North and South Korea be fixed at about eighty miles north of the 38th Parallel so as to take in a balanced area of economic resources.

But such a division means on its face that the United States would be deserting the objective of the U. N. resolution of October 7, 1950, which called for an independent and unified Korea.

Why, therefore, was the idea brought forward in the discussion with the press? This is not readily explained except on one possible basis—that the man who did the talking didn't make himself clear and was merely explaining possible ways that a negotiation might be approached when the time comes for such a parley.

But even this does not disclose why it was considered necessary to explore the subject with the press at all—unless the man who did it never thought it would appear in print and was just talking out loud, so to speak, as he unfolded his thoughts confidentially to the correspondents.

What is important is not what this news source was speculating about but what the policy toward Korea finally will be. The word from the White House is that no "conclusion" has been reached.

This in itself will be disquieting news. It could mean that the group inside the administration which wants to cut military spending, reduce taxes and end the war by any means possible has been making headway and that the subject matter of such discussions is very much in the minds of administration officials, so that persons informed as to what is going on naturally talk about all possibilities with no indication as to how the discussion finally will turn out.

Another important item mentioned as part of the same information conveyed to the press relates to a U. N. trusteeship for Formosa. This was mentioned as a compromise solution. But it is a fantastic suggestion. For it would mean that Chiang's troops would some day have to be driven out of Formosa by the U.N., and this is hardly something the United States could embark upon. Also, Red China, if in supreme control of the mainland of China, isn't going to consent to an independent status for Formosa, since this territory was promised to China itself by the Cairo Declaration to which the United States was a signatory.

If the two reported moves were really the American policy, it would amount to a Far Eastern Munich. Mere publication of such a possibility is bound to be harmful at this stage of the Russian peace adventure, when it isn't wise to tip our hand no matter what we have in mind.

It seems incredible that John Foster Dulles would care to remain as secretary of state if his views on the Far East were reversed to the extent that the newspaper reports would indicate they might be if the "conclusion" is to adopt policies that mean appeasement of the Communists.

It is impossible, for instance, to measure exactly how many square miles of territory would remain in the hands of the North Korean Communists as a "buffer" or "puppet" state for the Communists. But it would be a big slice of Korean territory.

Does anyone think South Korea could be pacified by such a move? It would mean that aggressors would be rewarded by being ceded a large piece of territory and, if the Red Chinese were seated in the U.N., it would all add up to a very remarkable victory for the Communists and a defeat for the American viewpoint.

Certainly, if anything like that happens, it will be difficult to keep a draft law on the statute books. For to send American boys abroad to be killed in such shenanigans of diplomatic trickery and appeasement would produce a major political convulsion, and somebody would have to begin writing letters of abject apology to the relatives of the 130,000 American boys who have become casualties in Korea.

If to divide up Korea and give a big gift of land to the Communists is what happens after "resisting aggression" in Korea, then such slogans become doubletalk.

It is gratifying to learn that the White House has not approved any such policy of appeasement as was reported to be under "consideration" or under "discussion," whatever the correct word for it really was.

Some Spring Day

By TRUMAN TWILL

Most worthwhile things happen in spring. Men take renewed interest in the circumstances of life and try to improve them.

Fortunately, they recover their sense of proportion about some of the things they've been doing during the winter and try to undo them. Or perhaps they quit doing them, in favor of something else.

A member of the U. S. House of Representatives, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, has called attention to something which goes on during the winter that should be knocked off in the spring, if not before. In a letter to his constituents back home, he pointed out that 3,369 bills and resolutions had been introduced in the House before it had been in session a month and that most of them were hogwash.

"Comparatively few proposals survive screening by committees," the congressman explained, "and even fewer become law — which I think everyone will agree is just as well."

Or to put the matter bluntly, which is how it needs to be put sometime or other during every legislative session, most of the stuff that clutters up the lawmaking process in the United States should have been shoved into the round file in the first place, to save time.

That is where they will end up eventually. Historians would have no trouble reaching agreement that if more of them had been shoved into the wastebasket instead of into the statutes the net improvement in human affairs would have been past measurement.

There eventually will be a system for keeping bad laws from being piled on top of bad laws ad infinitum. It will become a basic precept of all societies with written constitutions that no new law can be added to the statutes until an old one has been repealed, so that the total will be as fixed and constant as the Ten Commandments, which is all the law that a good society needs.

When this happens, there will be a continuous and relentless search for laws that have no excuse for existence, so they can be discarded to make room for new laws which seem to be necessary. As these, too, become unnecessary, they can be shoved aside — but the over-all total of laws will remain constant.

With a modicum of diligence and intelligence, every citizen will be able to know the gist of all the laws in existence. He will know his rights without expensive mumbo-jumbo by specialists who must spend a lifetime learning how to keep track of obscurities in legislation and interpretation.

If housecleaning can happen in springtime, anything can happen. Some spring day, men will look about them at the incredible clutter and confusion in which they live and sweep out the whole, fantastic mess with a new broom.

Speculators Run When Wars Start, End

By JAY G. HAYDEN

The North Korean Reds invaded South Korea on Sunday, June 25, 1950. Newspapers of the next day, June 26, reported the most severe break in prices on the New York Stock Exchange in four years.

"Prices declined from fractions to as much as 16 points as panicky investors unloaded the largest number of shares — 3,900,000 —in 10 years," they reported.

Likewise on a Sunday — last March 29 — came the current Communist acceptance of Gen. Clarke's proposal to trade sick and wounded prisoners — the first sign that a general break in the Korean truce deadlock might be close at hand.

The next day stock prices cracked again — 2,750,000 shares were traded in what the Wall Street Journal said was "The severest drop since Oct. 22, 1951." And that was just an opening zephyr of despair. This week Monday, following the first friendly meeting of the peace negotiators at Panmunjom, as stated by the Wall Street Journal, "Stocks suffered the worst break in nearly three years." Volume mounted to 3,050,000 shares and the drop was the most precipitate since November, 1950, when the news came that Chinese Communists had entered the war and turned back Gen. MacArthur's forces along the Yalu.

So the stock speculators run when wars start and they run again when wars end. If you want to know why, see a psychoanalyst, not a newspaper reporter.

From a purely reportorial standpoint it is pertinent to suggest that, if peace is to be viewed as a disaster, never was the country so well prepared to meet it.

Coincident with the Monday stock-market slump there appeared the April Bulletin of the National City Bank of New York, widely regarded as the nation's most accurate economic prognosticator. Here is the essence of its current finding.

"The principal manufacturing industries, with a few exceptions where overcapacity is chronic, are producing all they can and shipping all they make.

"In the aggregate the country could hardly be busier than it now is, for in a good many areas production is up against the ceiling of the labor supply and plant capacity . . . The pressure on the steel mills is unabated.

"Prices declined from fractions to as much as 16 points as panicky investors unloaded the largest number of shares — 3,900,000 —in 10 years," they reported.

"Total retail trade in February was better than in January on a seasonally adjusted basis and exceeded last year's figure by 7 per cent. Department stores sales in March have been encouragingly higher than a year ago, even after allowance for the earlier Easter this year. These increases are the more impressive because they are occurring without any special stimulous of 'scare' buying, such as the fears of shortages and higher prices which followed the outbreak of the Korean War.

"In the present circumstances people look forward to abundant supplies and probably — in some things — lower prices. Thus good retail sales are attributable to high employment, high personal incomes, and willingness to buy and, if necessary, to borrow to finance purchase."

The NCB reports that a Federal Reserve Board survey found 48 per cent of spending units examined receiving higher income than a year ago and 36 per cent expecting still further increases during the next 12 months. Thirty-three per cent felt that this is a good time to make major purchases of durable goods, compared with 22 per cent so minded in the same survey last year.

Toward the end of last year the Department of Commerce and the Securities and Exchange Commission combined in a prophesy that expenditures for industrial plant expansion and improvement would be 2 per cent lower in 1953 than in 1952. But a later survey, published in March on the basis of contracts let or definitely projected, found an increase of 2 per cent over last year.

One basis of stock-market fear which may be sound is that peace would cause a sharp decline in government buying — certainly of the types of military goods now being used up in Korea and probably of military equipment of all sorts. It is safe to assume further that peace would make way for a substantial cut in foreign-aid appropriations.

On the other side of the ledger, however, is the certainty that peace in Korea would give taxcutters a big lift. Congress already is that of mind and a real armistice would assure repeal of the corporate excess-profits tax next July 1 and, effective at the same time, at least the 10 per cent cut in personal income taxes already voted by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Lower taxes mean more money in citizens' pockets with which to buy automobiles, refrigerators, television sets and what not. It was two years after World War I before depression hit seriously and in 7½ years since the end of World War II there has been no real depression.

Red Truce Offer Worth Study

By RAYMOND MOLEY

The war in Korea may be a matter of the dim past long before we know what motivated the new Chinese offer of a cease fire. It may be a disposition by the Chinese government to exercise a policy independent of Moscow now that lesser men are filling the shoes of Stalin.

This is a tenable hypothesis. For even a slight weakening of Soviet unity and authority at the Kremlin makes itself felt first in the periphery of the vast Soviet Empire.

If this is true, the Chinese Communist government may well consider self-interest to have priority over running a diversionary war against Moscow's major enemy, the United States.

This effort in the direction of self-interest cannot help but be sharpened by the Chinese command's deep concern over the American determination to step up the pace of the war.

There are many evidences of such a determination. President Eisenhower was a military leader whose capacity to get tough after careful preparation is well known throughout the world.

He has said in no uncertain terms that he is determined to end the war in Korea. He has sent a tough fighter, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, to command the Eighth Army. He and the Defense Department have made it clear that if there is a shortage of ammunition it will be abundantly corrected.

More important, the President "is reported" to be "considering" the use of atomic weapons on the Korean front. This may be sheer conjecture, but it may be a deliberate threat.

These expressions of our determination to keep up and intensify the pressure come at a moment when spring weather is a heavy handicap to the Chinese and North Koreans. They have learned in other springs to know the difficulties of moving heavy equipment in mud and rain. Our side suffers from such handicaps.

Moreover, it is quite probable that we have exacted a terrific toll for recent Communist "successes" at the front. They may be hurt more than appears on the surface.

The proposal of Peiping, while hopeful, needs plenty of clarification. It suggests that hostilities cease before an exchange of prisoners. In the long months of negotiation before last October, our side never agreed to that. We insisted on an exchange before, not after, a cease fire.

We don't know what is meant by a neutral power. If, as form and not fact has it, every nation in the U.N. is a participant in this war, it would be hard to find a real "neutral."

The Communists proposed the Soviet Union before as the custodian of unrepatriated prisoners, and we rejected the suggestion. They suggested Poland, and we rejected that.

Perhaps there might be a settlement on two "neutrals," one selected by the enemy and one by ourselves—Poland and Sweden, for example.

Finally, there is a possibility that the Soviet Union is in need of husbanding military resources and equipment. This has been no easy task to arm a vast army of Chinese and North Koreans. Difficult and expensive as it is for us to keep our side equipped, it must be more so for a Soviet economy which is only fractionally as efficient as ours.

Whatever the conditions and motives may be that underly this offer it is a bright light for half the world. It cannot be disregarded.

Senator And the Fish

("Senator McCarthy spent his Florida vacation fishing."—News item.)

Scene—A pier at Miami Beach. Characters—The Senator and a fishing guide.

Q—I'd like a day's fishing. What's running?

A—May I consult my counsel? (He does so.) I am advised not to answer.

Q—This is the sailfish season, is it not?

A—Would you mind repeating that question?

Q—I ask you whether this is the sailfish season or not?

A—It all depends on the viewpoint. To some people it is; to others it is not.

Q—I consider that evasive, but will pass it for the time being and ask this question: How are the tarpon?

A—Would you be more specific? What tarpon do you mean?

Q—That is pure hedging. I will take any tarpon and I insist upon an answer.

A—May I read a statement here?

Q—Not at this time. I am trying to be very fair and all I want to know is whether tarpon are being caught just now in any large numbers?

A—Yes and no. Tarpon are peculiar.

Q—Never mind going into a discussion on how peculiar any fish may be. Have you caught any lately?

A—I caught tarpon in 1945 and 1946.

Q—But have you been a tarpon catcher since and are you a tarpon catcher today?

A—I decline to answer that question on the ground it might tend to incriminate and degrade me.

Q—How could a question like that degrade you?

A—You might tie it up with something else.

Q—You are within your rights if you seriously think my question could incriminate or degrade you. Now let me ask you another question. . .are the kingfish biting?

A—I wouldn't know.

Q—Didn't you testify in private session that they were plentiful?

A—If I so testified let it stand. But I do not recall any such question.

Q—Very well, let us get back to sailfish. If I decide to go sailfishing what equipment do I need?

A—This could lead to questioning of an entangling nature and I would rather not answer.

Q—I understand that when a sailfish hits the boat you let the line back and count ten slowly before setting the hook. Is that correct?

A—Yes. The fish, seeing the bait come back, is under the impression the fish is wounded and. . . .

Q—How do you know about the impressions of a fish? And why count ten? Why not fifteen or twenty? Or six and eight? Isn't this a free country?

A—I will go along with you on that. But I object to further questioning. The purpose is obvious.

Q—What is the purpose?

A—YOU ARE JUST ON A FISHING EXPEDITION!!!

Country Gardens Club Group Sees Slides, Maps Projects

The beautification of the grounds around Perry and Salem Granges will be the project of members of the newly-organized Country Gardens Club which met Thursday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Burtt Cobourn on Cemetery Hill Rd.

Mailboxes in front of their homes are the individual projects which the members will endeavor to make more attractive Twenty-seven members enjoyed the program arranged by Mrs. Virgil Whinery.

Mrs. Louis Weirick, a member of the Salem Garden Study Club was a guest. She showed colored slides of the tulip festival in Holland, Mich., and other slides depicted scenes of flowers and plants in various places. Roll call was answered by naming favorite house plants.

Bible verses read by Mrs. Perce King pertained to gardens. Mrs. John Van Blaricom named a variety of vegetables which could be frozen. Geraniums and first spring shoots were brought in two arrangements by Mrs. Andrew Vaughn and Mrs Edwin Evans.

Mrs. Cobourn named Mrs. Vaughn to the exhibit committee. Other committee chairmen included:

Mrs. Willis McArtor, sunshine; Mrs. Harvey Doyle, hostess; Mrs. Edwin Evans, question box; Mrs. Virgil Whinery, program; Mrs. Perce King, Perry Grange project; Mrs. Roland John, Salem Grange; Mrs. George Phillis, scrapbook and Mrs. Galen Greenisen, publicity.

The meeting May 13 will feature a "Do You Know?" contest and all the members will contribute to a "country store." Mrs. Whinery will arrange the program in her home on the Franklin Rd. Assisting will be Mrs. Carl Spencer, Mrs. Walter Makoski, and Mrs. Rudy Hrovatic.

Ten Members Are Accepted By C. D. Of A.

Rev. Fr. Edward Varble was guest of the Catholic Daughters of America and gave a short address at their Thursday night meeting held in St. Paul School.

Grand Regent Mrs. Samuel Caporella conducted the meeting and 10 new memberships were accepted.

A nominating committee comprised of Mrs. William Chaplow, chairman, Mrs. Earl Yeager and Mrs. Ernest Bruderly was elected. They will present their slate of nominations at the May 14 meeting when election of officers will be held after a coverdish supper at 6:30 p.m. Mrs. Domonic Parlontieri will head the committee in charge.

The C. D. of A. will sew for the hospital April 29 at Mrs. Parlontieri's home at 151 E. Fifth St.

The first Sunday in May a mass will be said for all the deceased members. Catholic Daughters will attend the mass in a body and a communion breakfast will follow.

After the business meeting a social time was held, and winners in the card games included Mrs. Thomas Waggoner, canasta; Mrs. Lloyd Scott, contract bridge; Mrs. Charles Ray, auction bridge and Mrs. Edwin Probert, 500.

The social committee for the evening's entertainment was comprised of Mrs. George McConnor, chairman, Mrs. Louis Mattevi, Mrs. Angelo Carmello, Mrs. John Trombitas, Mrs. Homer Logue and Mrs. Parlontieri.

Court Salem and candidates are invited to attend a reception at St. Francis Hotel in Canton, April 19.

Presbyterian Women Will Hear Speaker

Mrs. Don Montgomery of Youngstown, who with her husband took a trip to the Holy Land recently will appear on a return speaking engagement Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church for members and guests of the Presbyterian Evening Committees and the Geneva Fellowship.

The separate committees will have business sessions starting at 7:30. Mrs. A. Laten Carter will lead the worship service and there will be a musical program. The Evening groups include members of the May, June, July and August committees of the Presbyterian Women's Association.

4-H Club News

Willowettes

The first meeting of the Willowettes 4-H Club was held Monday at Willow Grove Grange Hall, and the members decided to have a mother-daughter tea at the next meeting, May 11.

Mrs. Leland Hahn was honored with a surprise stork shower Thursday evening when members of the Gay Eight Club were guests in the home of Mrs. Michael Pash of E. Fifth St.

A guest, Miss Bernidette Vietmier, won a prize at this "mad hat" party. Other prizes went to Mrs. John Yakubek and Mrs. Hahn. The next party, May 14, will be in the N. Lincoln Ave. home of Mrs. Wayne Whiteleather.

Social Gatherings Are Held By Beta Sigma Phi Groups

The "crazy hats" worn by 31 members and guests of Beta Psi Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Thursday evening added to the fun of the spring rushee party in the public library.

Greetings were extended by the president, Mrs. Frederick Limestahl, and the guests were identified by name cards attached to tiny favor hats decorated with cotton chicks.

Prize for the funniest hat went to Mrs. Ellwood Hammell Jr. while prize for the most original went to Mrs. Lawrence Kaercher. In the scavenger hunt Mrs. Gerold Smith found the most miniature items hidden on the guests or in the room.

"Crazy bridge" prizes went to Mrs. Russell Hackett and Mrs. Robert Paxson, Mrs. Ed Cormany and her committee arranged for the unusual entertainment. Refreshments were served at card tables where larger hats, like the favors, were the centerpieces. Mrs. Vincent Moore and her committee were refreshment hostesses.

Pictures were taken to commemorate the event. A "model" meeting will be held April 16 at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Greene at 953 Franklin St. A white elephant benefit will provide entertainment. The club has contributed $325 to civic projects, with $125 of the total added to the Centennial Park Swimming Pool Fund.

Xi Pi Chapter

"Our World as a Mirror," was the topic chosen by Mrs. John Holzwarth who was in charge of the program at the Thursday night meeting of Xi Pi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held in the home of Miss Martha Krauss of Euclid St

In reading an article, "The Hardest Lesson," from the Readers Digest, Mrs. Holzwarth showed how a man who decided to analyze himself and correct his faults became a better liked person when he was convinced "you are not one person, but three — the one you think you are, the one other people think you are, and the one you really are."

Stressing "There is magic in a word of praise," the speaker stated that spoken at the right time and in the right way, there really is magic in a word of praise. It is sincerely unmixed with the possibility of flattery which gives potency to a compliment, she said.

"Must Liberty Bow Her Head in Shame," was another subject discussed by Mrs. Holzwarth.

In serving refreshments the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Rex Hundertmarck and Mrs. Martin Roth.

W. H. Mathews will be guest speaker when the sorority meets April 16 in the Cleveland Ave. home of Mrs. Holzwarth.

Mt. Nebo Grange Schedules Events

Mt. Nebo Grange held its regular meeting Wednesday with Master Ernest Tullis in charge.

Letters from the health department and the River Lake Belt Conveyor were read. A committee of Charles Morlan, Carl Bailey and Geneva Zimmerman was named to study the conveyor plan. May 17 was set as the Sunday to observe Rural Life Sunday; May 10th, Rogation Sunday, being Mother's Day. It was announced that April 18 will be Pomona meeting at Highland grange.

For the lecture program an opening song was sung by the group; a poem, "Ma's New Spring Hat," was read by Geneva Zimmerman; a panel composed of Guy Frantz, Frank Simmons, Doris Jones, and Harvey Tullis, with Ernest Tullis as moderator, discussed various questions submitted by grange members; and program suggestions were given by everyone present.

"Community Fun Night" will be held April 17 at Mt. Nebo at 8 p.m. Everyone is invited to bring a friend.

The next meeting of Mt. Nebo grange will be April 22.

Miss Nellie Lewis Orange Ray Speaker

Guest speaker Miss Nellie Lewis told of her work in the missions in India when Orange Ray members of the Women's Society of Christian Service met Thursday in the Methodist Church.

"A God We Trust," was the devotional theme stressed by Mrs. C. H. Waldron.

Plans for a benefit to be held April 16 and 17 were completed.

It was announced that tickets are now available for the Mother and Daughter Banquet, sponsored by the general society, to be held May 6 in the Memorial Building.

A nominating committee comprised of Mrs. H. V. Bachman, Mrs. Edward Bruderly and Mrs. Waldron was appointed.

The next meeting is scheduled for May 14 in the church.

Home Rebekah Group Views Colored Slides

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Howard shared their recent trip to Florida with members and guests of the Past Noble Grand Association of Home Rebekah Lodge at the Thursday evening meeting in the I.O.O.F. hall. Beautiful colored slides taken by the Howards were discussed by Mr. Howard for the evening's entertainment.

The president, Mrs. Carrie Kelley, conducted the business session when Miss Elinor Currier was installed as vice president to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Nelson Baunach. Daffodils and yellow crepe paper runners decorated the tables where the guests were seated for refreshments served by Mrs. Emmor Greene and Mrs. Philip Rhodes. The next meeting will be May 14.

Bunco Session Held By Fifth St. Club

Bunco prizes were won by Mrs. Clarence Milliken and Mrs. Harold Pike when the Friendly East Fifth St. Club was entertained on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Jack Fitzpatrick.

Spring flowers decorated the table when refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Simon Wagner.

Mrs. William Goodchild invited the group to hold the April 23 meeting in her home.

20 Attend Meeting Of Stamp, Coin Club

Salem, Youngstown, East Liverpool, Newell, W. Va., and Akron were represented among the 20 members attending the Wednesday evening meeting of the Salem Stamp and Coin Club in the Memorial Building.

Nathan Harris presided at the meeting when plans were made for a benefit auction at the next meeting, April 22. Mr. Harris and George Boeckling will serve as auctioneers.

Purple Ray Has Election Of Officers

Mrs. Carl Frantz was elected president of the Purple Ray of the Women's Society of Christian Service when the group met Wednesday in the Methodist Church parlor.

Other officers elected to serve for the coming year include vice president, Mrs. L. W. Sanders secretary, Mrs. Albert Morris and treasurer, Mrs. George Dressel.

Mrs. Sanders opened the meeting with a devotional period using the Easter theme.

"As Your Garden Grows" was the topic used by the guest speaker, Mrs. Frank Stoudt, to show that in our daily living it is important to sow seeds of kindness and good will. She suggested that we sow in our gardens, six rows of "P's" — promptness, prayer, perseverence, patience, purpose, and preparedness.

Four rows of "lettuce" (let us be) — faithful, friendly, unselfish, and loyal) three rows of "squash" —gossip, criticism and indifference; and three rows of "turnips' (turn up) —for meetings, good ideas and determination to make everything court for good.

She pointed out that each of us has a responsibility to all those we contact in everyday life; we should be an inspiration to them and help them have a better life.

Mrs. Harry Loria presided at the business meeting, and it was decided that the group would sponsor a benefit April 18.

May will be guest month, and a tea will be held at the home of Mrs. Loria of N. Union Ave. May 13.

Arrangements were made for some members of the group to attend the District Women's Society meeting to be held April 28 in Steubenville.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. W. H. Milhoan, Mrs. Charles Wernet and Mrs. Loria.

Republican Women Plan For Primary

Republican precinct committee women and workers met Thursday evening in the E. State St. home of Mrs. J. W. Astry, Columbiana County Republican chairwoman, and formulated plans for the coming May primary.

The group also became acquainted with the new precincts recently created in Salem because of the unprecedented vote of last November. The evening concluded socially and refreshments were served.

300,000 Expected To Attend Baseball Openers Next Week

Two Games Set For Monday

Tribe To Open With White Sox Tuesday

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Will the New York Yankees make it five in a row? Can Brooklyn lick the seven-year National League jinx and successfully defend its championship? Will Stan Musial cop his seventh batting title? Is Joe Black merely a one-year wonder?

How about Jackie Robinson? Where will he play now that he has lost his second base job to rookie Junior Gilliam? Is Mickey Mantle really the "new" Joe DiMaggio? Will home run slugger Ralph Kiner bounce back or will he be traded? Will the Braves put Milwaukee on the map and vice versa?

These and other questions await answers as the 16 major league teams await the opening of the season next Monday and Tuesday.

Approximately 300,000 spectators are expected to attend the 10 openers, two of which will take place Monday afternoon.

In special inaugurals, Washington will host the Yankees in the American League and the franchise-shifted Braves will be guests of Cincinnati in the National. Righthanders Bob Porterfield (13-14) for the Nats and Allie Reynolds (20-8) for the Yankees will be the starting pitchers in Washington. Bud Podbielan (4-5) for the Reds and Warren Spahn (14-19) for the Braves will oppose each other in Cincinnati. Each game is expected to have a sellout crowd of 30,000.

All teams will swing into action the following day. The largest crowd—some 55,000—is expected at Cleveland where the improved Chicago White Sox clash with the Indians. The White Sox will feature two newcomers, first baseman Ferris Fain and third baseman Vern Stephens, obtained in trades with the Athletics and Red Sox. The Indians will field the same team behind Bob Lemon that finished second to the Yankees last year.

Baseball-hungry Milwaukee, with its brand new five-million dollar stadium packed to its 36,000 seat capacity, will celebrate its return to the major leagues, taking on Eddie Stanky's St. Louis Cardinals. Milwaukee will field a greatly improved club featuring newcomers Andy Pafko, Joe Adcock and rookie Bill Bruton in centerfield, plus holdovers Sid Gordon and Eddie Mathews. The Cards, behind righthander Gerry Staley, will have rookies Ray Jablonski and Steve Bilko along with the one and only Stan Musial, Enos Slaughter and Red Schoendienst.

Some 40,000 are expected to see the Philadelphia Athletics-Yankee game at New York where Alex Kellner, the strapping A's southpaw will match slants with righthander Vic Raschi, who long has been a nemesis to Philadelphia batters.

Crowds of 15,000 are counted on at St. Louis to see the Browns and Tigers, and at Boston to watch the Senators and Red Sox. Ned Garver will pitch for the Tigers against his former mates. He will be opposed by Duane Pillette. Walter Masterson will hurl for Washington against southpaw Mel Parnell and his ex-Red Sox mates.

The Tiger, Browns and Red Sox lineups will be dotted with newcomers. Detroit will have four new faces—Harvey Kuenn at shortstop, John Baumgartner at third, Russ Sullivan in left field and Johnny Bucha behind the plate. Bill Hunter, the $90,000 purchase, will be at short for the Browns. Outfielders Tom Umphlett, Gene Stephens and shortstop Milt Bolling will see action for Boston.

A total of 111,000 is expected to take in the four National League openers with 25,000 at Chicago, Brooklyn and Philadelphia.

Cincinnati will have veteran Kenny Raffensberger on the mound against the Cubs, but behind him may be rookies Jim Greengrass in left field and Johnny Temple at second base. Righthander Bob Rush is slated to hurl for the Cubs who will have newcomer Paul Schramka in left, subbing for the injured Hank Sauer, and Preston Ward, a transplanted first baseman, in center.

Pittsburgh may field four rookies—first baseman Paul Smith, shortstop Dick Cole and outfielders Felipe Montemayor and Frank Thomas against the Dodgers at Ebbets Field. Murry Dickson, the veteran righthander, will be on the mound. Carl Erskine will hurl for the Brooks, who will present their rookie find Junior Gilliam, at second base, with Jackie Robinson at third.

Robin Roberts, winner of 28 games, will face Larry Jansen of the Giants in Philadelphia. The Giants will be without rookie third baseman Daryl Spencer, who suffered a fractured cheekbone when hit by a pitched ball. The Phils will show off first baseman Earl Torgeson, obtained from Boston in the swap for Russ Meyer.

Heavy Catches Reported By State Wildlife Division

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Alvin Staffan of Columbus pulled in the top fish of the week in Ohio, a six-pound large-mouth bass in a Richland County lake.

But, the state wildlife division reported other heavy catches in its weekly report on hook-and-line conditions:

Twenty-one fishermen caught 94 small-mouth bass in the Hocking River near Coolville. A fisherman took a 23-inch small-mouth bass in Mosquito Reservoir.

An Akron fisherman (name unknown) landed 18 bass in a day's fishing on Turkeyfoot Lake in Summit County.

This doesn't mean fishing generally was good in Ohio, the division said. Cold weather and considerable rainfall made fishing generally poor. The experts are hoping a weather break might bring clear streams by Sunday.

General stream conditions—generally high and roily; general lake conditions — generally clear to cloudy.

Conditions by districts:

Northeastern — Lake conditions generally clear. Lake Erie rough. Stream conditions clear and low, except in extreme northwest corner of district where streams were muddy and high. Fishing improved over last week. Some bass, bluegills, crappies and suckers taken. Snaggers reported in numbers for first time and some success in Cuyahoga River near Mantua and in Conneaut Creek and north branch of Beaver Creek. Good fishing lakes this week-end — Nimisila, Springfield, Portage, Norwalk Reservoir and Rocky River.

Southwestern Ohio — Streams clear to cloudy and lakes generally clear. Some fairly good catches reported during week at Indian Lake, including some bass and crappies. Kiser Lake — some bass taken. Stonelick Lake reported giving up crappies. St. Marys Lake rough and roily.

Northwestern — rivers and streams high and muddy. Few crappies being taken in Defiance County; also few catfish. In Ottawa County, few bass, crappies and bullheads taken in East Harbor. Few crappies and bullheads being taken in Sandusky River in Sandusky County. Fishing pressure very light.

Southeastern and east central—Athens County — Streams fairly clear, generally cloudy to roily. Few bass reported taken in Tappan Reservoir in Tuscarawas County. In Holmes County some suckers being taken by gigging. Lake Hope in Vinton County and Burr Oak in Athens County were bright spots. Some bass and bluegills taken in Lake Hope and fishing generally good in Burr Oak all week. Top catch four-pound, four-ounce bass in Burr Oak.

Central and southern — All streams muddy to roily. Lakes generally cloudy to roily. Franklin County — Some fine catches of rock bass made during week on Big Walnut Creek; also some bass taken in Blacklick south of Rt. 40. Delaware County all streams roily and Delaware Reservoir cloudy. Madison County all streams muddy and Madison Lake cloudy. Some bass caught. Fishing pressure light. All other streams muddy to roily. Buckeye Lake fishing fair.

Babe Zaharias To Be Told Malady Today

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Babe Didrikson Zaharias will know today whether she has reached the end of a great athletic career.

The mightiest woman athlete of all is due to hear the fateful words this afternoon—if the malady that put her in a hospital three days ago is of such serious nature as to take her from the money-strewn golf tour.

As messages of good wishes poured in from over the nation—they had reached the 2,000 mark—the Babe was still her usual cheerful, wise-cracking self. "I am definitely not out of sports," said the woman who attained fame in the Olympic games, in basketball, in golf and every sport she tried, and who is known as one of the fiercest competitors ever to step on an athletic field.

She has gone through every medical test for the malady, described as of malignant nature.

Her husband, ex-wrestler George Zaharias with whom she owns a golf course near Tampa, Fla., would publicly express no opinion as to what is wrong with the Babe but he has muttered: "This is a terrible thing."

Poland Wins Track Meet

Billett Wins Four Events For Leetonia

Strong winds and a soft track, added to a fast Poland track team, gave the Leetonia High track team much difficulty when they placed second in yesterday's track meet in Poland.

Out of 14 events Leetonia took five with a total of 43 points and Poland took nine with a total of 75 points.

Billetts of Leetonia took four of the five Leetonia events: the 100 yd. dash in 10.5 seconds, the 440 yd. dash in 55.4 seconds, the 220 yd. dash in 25 seconds, and the broad jump in 18 feet and six inches.

Guido of Leetonia took the shot put when he threw a distance of 45 feet eight and three-quarters inches.

Leetonia took their first meet of the season when they beat Springfield 69 to 49 last week.

Next week they will meet East Palestine at East Palestine.

Yesterday's winners by events are:

24 Years in National League

Question: In a high-school baseball game in which seven innings is considered a full game, rain or darkness causes the game to be called at the end of three and a half innings. Is this considered a regulation game?—Dick Tucker.

Answer: No. Even if the game is only seven innings, the regulations concerning a called game are the same as for a nine-inning contest. At least four and a half innings are required.

Q. How many teams in baseball have been in the same major league without interruption since its organization?—Tom Johnson.

A. None. The Boston Braves was the only club to belong to the same big league without interruption since organization. Boston was a member of the old National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs, forerunner of the present National League. They were in the league for 82 years.

Q. Since joining the American League, which club holds the edge in total victories over the other, Tigers or Red Sox?—Dave Gordon.

A. Able arithmeticians report that in the circuit's 52-year-history, the Bosox and Tigers have met 1127 times and only give games separated them. Detroit was in front, 566 to 561, going into the 1953 campaign.

Bob Lemon To Hurl Opener For Tribe Against White Sox; Indians Beaten By Giants, 9-7

NEW YORK (AP) — With Bob Lemon in line to hurl the opener against Chicago Tuesday, the Cleveland Indians tune up their other three starters here today and Sunday against the New York Giants.

Early Wynn opens, and Mike Garcia finishes today; and Bob Feller tosses the exhibition finale Sunday.

Lemon had good stuff in his last practice start by Lynchburg, Va. Friday but he had control troubles, too. He gave only one earned run and six hits in seven innings, but Whitey Lockman thumped him for a three-run homer in the third.

Lou Brissie was charged with the 9-7 loss to the Giants, the Tribe's third straight. Brissie was tagged for a three-run homer by rookie Ray Katt in the eighth and another homer in the ninth by Hank Thompson.

An infield error—a familiar bugaboo—hurt the Indians. Shortstop Ray Boone juggled a slow grounder by Sal Maglie that should have been the second out of the third inning. A single by Don Mueller and a walk to Thompson followed, but Lemon fanned Monte Irvin for what should have been the inning-ending out. Then came Lockman's Blast.

Al Rosen also made two errors at third on one play—fumbled a grounder then threw wild.

Bill Glynn was the Tribe's hitting star against Maglie, driving in six runs with two homers and a bases-loaded single. Rosen and Bob Avila also got three hits each.

Veterinarian, 44, Battles Into Mat Finals

By FRITZ HOWELL

TOLEDO, O. (AP)—He may not go back to San Francisco a champion, but Dr. M. A. Northrup will depart from the National AAU wrestling tournament as one of the most colorful and able competitors the annual mat-classic has ever seen.

Dr. Northrup is 44 years old—most ancient of the 117 entrants in the four-day clashes which reach the final stage tonight. He is a veterinarian.

Perhaps you wonder why a guy that old—a professional man, too—goes in for the wear and tear of wrestling the elite of the country's college, athletic and service clubs. Let him tell you:

"I was 23 and a student at Washington State before I tried wrestling. After graduating, I stayed away from the game for three years, put on 20 pounds I didn't need, and in 1936 contracted a serious case of spinal arthritis.

"The disease refused to respond to a four-month treatment. My physician said heat and manipulation would help and wrestling was the best way to get both."

Dr. Northrup finished third in his first National AAU tourney in 1939 and hasn't missed one since.

Thirty-seven wrestlers compete in semifinals this afternoon, with the top three of each of eight classes entering a round-robin tonight to decide championships.

Missed Spare Costs Team Doubles Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—A missed spare cost a New York-New Jersey doubles team the lead in the event in the American Bowling Congress tournament early today.

The two, Graz Castellano of Jackson Heights, N. Y., and Joe Brown of Jersey City, N. J., missed the lead by eight pins, winding up with 1,332 for a three-way tie for third place.

The leading team in the event is Eddie Koepp and Joe Kissoff of Cleveland, who posted 1,339 March 25.

This was the only change of the 48th day, the first in the minor events since a week ago Monday.

Randy Sandy Defeats Jimmy Beau On TKO

NEW YORK (AP)—Randy Sandy, promising New York middleweight, is open to all offers after stopping experienced Jimmy Beau on a technical knockout in 2:03 of the eighth round Friday night at St. Nicholas Arena.

As blood continued to drip from a cut over Beau's right eye, Referee Petey Scalzo called a halt to the proceedings. It was only a formality for 22-year-old Sandy was way out front on all three official cards.

College Crews To Race

MARIETTA, O. (AP) — Marietta College and La Salle College of Philadelphia crews will race at 4:30 p. m. today on the Muskingum River.

Lakers Win Pro Cage Championship

NEW YORK (AP)—The Minneapolis Lakers again are the National Basketball Association's champions, but you never would have guessed it from a visit to their dressing room after they beat the New York Knickerbockers last night.

No wild shouting. No excessive horse play, like college kids who've just won the national title. For these were champions who saw nothing unusual in winning pro basketball's top prize for the second straight year and fourth time in five years. They won this time by taking four out of five games, three straight on the Knicks' court.

In the losers' dressing quarters, Coach Joe Lapchick neatly summed up the Lakers' 91-84 victory:

"The pros won it. They made the baskets when they had to, and we blew it."

The Knicks, needing only one point to tie with 35 seconds left, never got it as Vern Mikkelsen put in a foul, George Mikan made a three-point play and Pep Saul added the final basket of the season.

McMillan May Prove To Be Better Hitter

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP)—It's possible that slender, young Roy McMillan will make Cincinnati Manager Rogers Hornsby doubly happy this season by becoming a crackerjack hitter as well as a superb shortstop.

The 22-year-old Texan, already recognized as a great gloveman, has shown strong signs this spring of developing into a hard-hitting batter. Last year he hit only .244 while driving in 57 runs, but finished the season strongly.

Friday, when the Redlegs played their first game this year at Crosley Field, an exhibition against the Detroit Tigers, McMillan scored one run and batted in two others with two singles and a double in four times at bat. The Redlegs beat the Tigers, 7-4, on the strength of home runs by Jim Greengrass, Wally Post and Ted Kluszewski.

Minor Leagues Approve Signing California Boys

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The minor leagues have voted in reprisal to allow baseball clubs to sign California high school players, the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues announced today. The rule wil lbe effective if major league clubs approve.

Four California players were ruled ineligible this week by the San Francisco Academic Athletic Association for attending professional tryout camps.

Minor Leagues President George Trautman said 32 leagues voted to declare California open territory.

Barons, Hornets Meet Tonight In 4th Game

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Cleveland Barons have a 2-1 edge as they meet the Pittsburgh Hornets tonight in the fourth game of the American Hockey League's Calder Cup series.

If Cleveland wins tonight, Coach Fred Cook predicted his Barons will wind up the series on their home ice Cunday night.

Hogan Pulls Into Lead In 17th Masters

9 EPO qvy kl 612aes 11

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Ben Hogan has collected a string of nicknames during his long career of championship golf, but none suited him better today than "Mr. Methodical."

Hogan was a study in concentration and precision as he put together a 32-37—69 over the Augusta National Club course for a 139 total and a one-stroke lead going into the third round of the 17th Masters Tournament.

Par for the 6,900-yard course with the sprawling, undulating greens is 36-36—72.

Hogan was particularly adept with his iron game as he made his bid for his second Masters' title.

His five under par 139 was one better than Bob Hamilton of Evansville, Ind., who matched Ben's second-round 69. Chick Harbert of Detroit, who took the lead the first day with a 68, and Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N. Y., tied for third with 141. Kroll had a 70, Harbert a 73.

Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., who picked up more cash on the winter tour than anyone else, pulled back into contention with a neat four-under 68 for a 142 total.

Hogan is playing his 11th Masters, his third since a near-fatal auto-bus collision. He won in 1951 and has never finished out of the top 10.

Bruin Center Back For Playoff Action

MONTREAL (AP)—The Boston Bruins, one game down in the National Hockey League playoffs for the Stanley Cup, will be back at full strength when they meet the Montreal Canadiens in the second contest of the best of seven series tonight.

Milt Schmidt, veteran center sidelined by a skate cut during the semi-final series against Detroit, is ready to return to action and his presence could mean a lot to Boston.

At the same time, the Canadiens will be weakened a trifle by the absence of center Billy Reay. Reay reinjured his ankle in the Canadiens' 4-2 victory Thursday and is expected to watch the game from the bench.

Coach Dick Irvin of the Canadiens indicated he'll replace Reay with Paul Meger.

Irvin and Coach Lynn Patrick of Boston both felt much better over the condition of their goalies.

Jim Henry of the Bruins showed up with a nip of the flu bug but turned out for a skating drill yesterday and said he felt okay. The Canadiens' rookie goalie, Jacques Plante, also was reported ready to play after being hit in the groin by a shot off Hal Laycoe's stick in Thursday's contest.

Basilio Favored Tonight

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Carmen Basilio steps into the ring a favorite tonight over Carmine Fiore in their scheduled 10-round welterweight bout in War Memorial Auditorium.

The fight will be televised nationally (ABC-TV).

Congress Told Truce Fears Unjustified

WASHINGTON (AP) — Economic advisers to Congress say the business outlook is good—even though the stock market took fright at the prospect of a truce in Korea.

A study by the staff of the Senate House Economic Committee, made public yesterday, said there was danger a truce might produce an "unjustified psychological reaction" which could lead to a depression.

In similar terms, Undersecretary of Commerce Walter Williams declared in a speech in New York Wednesday that there is no reason to be "panicky about peace in Korea . . . as if that very fact was a calamity in itself."

The congressional staff analysis said that, unless the public kept its confidence in the economy, it was "conceivable although not warranted" that there might develop "the reverse of the business and consumer buying wave" which followed outbreak of the Korea fighting in 1950. They suggested one Communist objective in seeking a truce might be to cause a U. S. depression.

The economists said a truce will not automatically bring marked changes in federal programs. Among factors to bolster the economy they listed:

Plans for increases in spending for plants, lack of excess capacity in important industries, continued demand for housing, apparently reasonable inventories, plenty of liquid savings, stable prices, prospects for increased consumer income and probable tax reductions.

"In spite of the bearishness of the stock market over the possibility of a Korean truce, the present outlook for private business activity and continued high levels of production and employment remains good," the economists asserted.

Air Force Unveils 'Mighty Mouse' Launcher

The wraps are off the secret rocket-firing device on the U.S. Air Force F-86D Sabrejet, shown in action, above, at Los Angeles, Calif. It is a retractable pod that fires 24 "Mighty Mouse" rockets, each equivalent to 57-mm. artillery shell. They are usually fired in salvos of six, 12, 18 or 24, fanning out up and down, left and right, as they speed toward the enemy target. An electronic mechanism guides and locks the plane onto the target for the kill. At right, a mechanic inspects the pod on an F-86D, the nation's only one-man interceptor plane.

Republican Congressmen Lose To Dems

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—It will be different in June, the Republicans said after losing to the Democrats, 12-5 in a congressional exhibition baseball game here Friday night.

But if the GOP wants to turn the tide in the baseball series when they play the annual charity game in Washington June 5, the best way is to get Rep. W. M. (Fireball) Wheeler (D-Ga) out of Congress.

Wheeler pitched all the way in the five inning game and gave up only five hits when practically any fly ball to the outfield was a base hit. He struck out seven. And he hit a double—one of three extra base hits in the game.

It took an hour and a half to play the five innings. That was because of frequent filibusters, appeals to the Rules Committee and an extra special treat for any congressmen to get more than a single.

On the rare occasion of the extra base hit, play was stopped and a pretty girl in a bathing suit presented the hitter with a watch at second base.

The Democrats got 12 hits off Ueps. Ostertag (NY), Bates (Mass) and Ayres (O.)

TO CELEBRATE AIR LINK

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O. (AP)—DC-3 planes of the Lake Central Airlines will bring mayors of several cities here today to celebrate linking of this Tuscarawas County seat with a string of other cities from Pittsburgh to Chicago. Lake Central will inaugurate the new air travel service next Wednesday. On the airline's Ohio routes are Mansfield, Columbus, Dayton and Cleveland.

J. Fred Muggs

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Recently a television actor named Muggs received a fan letter from a little girl.

"I have wanted a baby sister for a long time," she wrote, "and now I would like to have one who looks just like you."

Her parents refrained from comment.

The actor, J. Fred Muggs, is a baby chimpanzee.

Television, which certainly made monkeys out of some famous stars, now is making famous stars out of monkeys. The pioneer is J. Fred, who in less than a year emerged from the obscurity of darkest Africa to floodlight fame as a top TV performer.

The gauge of his fame is that in 10 weeks he has acquired seven Simian imitators — almost one a week.

Young Mr. Muggs is supported by Dave Garroway on an NBC daily network show called "Today." He was first put on the show as a gag. But he was such an immediate hit he now is a fixture.

Garroway works hard for his money. All J. Fred does is mug a bit, snub Garroway, toy with his socks and look as much as possible like any other chimpanzee.

"Muggs is successful because he doesn't try to do anything," is the way entertainment experts sum up his skyrocket rise. "Who else can you tune in on your TV set and see acting normal& If Muggs told jokes or did card tricks he'd be a flop."

There is no doubt of J. Fred's solid popularity. What other mammal under one year of age do you know who gets more than 100 fan letters a week, has 65 suits, and holds a sliding contract that may up his weekly paycheck from $250 to $1,100?

Admirers have sent him a hobby horse, a high chair, clothing, enough toys to stock a prince's nursery, and even a razor (he needs a shave).

A surprising amount of the baby chimp's mail is from grownups, and they write as if he were a human being. One wealthy woman put her limousine at Muggs' disposal — if she could go along for the ride.

All stars get poison pen letters, too. So far Muggs has only one enemy, a New Yorker who mailed him a piece of rope and a note saying, "This would look well pulled around your neck."

Naturally, J. Fred did no such thing. He is having the time of his life, and even a chimp isn't chimp enough to think he can please everybody.

He is owned by, or rather he owns, two young former NBC page boys who operate a pet shop — Bud Mannella and Roy Waldron. They bought him for $600 wholesale.

"We don't know how long he will last as a performer, and we don't really care very much," said Bud.

"We don't want to make him into a trick chimp. We are just trying to teach him to walk straight, eat with a spoon, and drink from a cup. He already brushes his teeth and goes to the toilet by himself.

"Muggs is like any other creature in the world — he just wants to be sure he is loved."

He is. He gets up at 4 a. m., commutes to his television studio, spends the rest of the day at the pet shop with his owners, and goes home with them at night. He has never been in a cage since they got him.

Next week Muggs is flying — in a passenger seat, not in the baggage compartment — to Chicago for a first birthday party in his honor being given by Marlin Perkins, director of the Lincoln Park Zoo there.

You could go to the zoo with no trouble. But poor Muggs has to pack along an X-ray proof he has no tuberculosis and a veterinarian's statement certifying he isn't smuggling any intestinal worms into Chicago. When strange chimps meet, they have to be more careful about each other than people.

Technically, Muggs is an ape. But he is making so much money that his owners are afraid the income tax will make him a broke monkey — and them, too.

Hall Says They Snipe At Ike, Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall was at war today with "left wingers" he said are firing at President Eisenhower and Congress as a prelude to next year's congressional election battle.

Hall, unanimously elected chairman by the GOP committee yesterday to succeed C. Wesley Roberts who resigned, told his party colleagues not to expect any "overnight miracles."

It will take a long time, the new chairman said, to bring the Eisenhower program into being, and establish the Republicans as a true majority party that can elect a president in 1956—preferably Eisenhower again.

Without making it clear whether he was talking exclusively about Democrats or also about some Republicans, Hall told the national committee:

"The left wing has only begun to snipe at him (Eisenhower), to take pot shots at Congress and to insinuate its deadly philosophy of defeatism into the American life again. No, the left wing has not been vanquished. It has only lost a battle.

"It will use every technique at its command — misrepresentation, infiltration, penetration, deception and distortion to have its way."

Eisenhower, who chatted briefly with the committee members at the White House, had preserved neutrality throughout the selection of Hall, boomed primarily by House Speaker Martin of Massachusetts. But it was common knowledge that Hall had been suggested as a competent man by the President, with whom he traveled during last year's presidential campaign.

Some Westerners protested ineffectively against the choice of a New Yorker, but they acceded to the President's views.

Hall, 52, served 14 years in Congress and is a former chairman of the GOP Congressional Campaign Committee, which assists the election of Republican House members.

Instead of campaigning for reelection last fall, he sought and won election as a surrogate, or judge of wills, in Nassau County, Long Island. He said he will quit this $30,000 a year job and will take no salary as GOP chairman, relying for income on his law firm at Oyster Bay on Long Island.

Roberts was paid at the rate of $32,500 a year for the less than three months he was chairman. He resigned after a Kansas legislative committee ruled he violated at least the spirit of the state anti-lobbying law in helping to sell a hospital to the state.

Roberts had no party or government job at the time. He denied any wrongdoing, blamed the incident on factional difficulties, but said he felt his activities as party chairman were impaired.

The committee and individual members expressed strong belief in Roberts' integrity in accepting his resignation.

The Democratic National Committee released, coincident with Hall's election, what it called a "full account of head on conflicts" between Eisenhower's views and Hall's voting in Congress. Cited particularly was a vote last year for a two-billion-dollar cut in foreign aid after Eisenhower had said a reduction of more than one billion might endanger essential defense preparations in Europe.

Hall announced he is keeping Miss Bertha B. Adkins as assistant chairman and director of the woman's division. He said he has named Mrs. Edna Basten Donald of Grand Island, Neb., as vice chairman.

The new chairman indicated he will employ Robert Humphreys, who has been serving House Republicans as a public relations adviser, in the job of national publicity director.

HELD ON EMBEZZLEMENT

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O. (AP)—The Tuscarawas County grand jury has indicted a former bookkeeper for the Patterson Battery Corp. on 116 counts of embezzlement and forgery. Edward R. Maybaugh, 28, is accused of chiseling the firm out of $14,955 in less than a year.

Senator 'Disturbed' By Ike's 1,000 Executive Orders Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said he is "a little bit disturbed" today by apparent plans of the new Eisenhower administration to issue more than 1,000 executive orders during its four year term.

"I had hoped we would gradually get away from government by presidential order and back to the old system of letting Congress make the laws," Mundt said in an interview.

Mundt said he and Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) were surprised to learn at a closed Senate appropriations hearing that the new Eisenhower administration plans 280 such orders this year and the same number in 1954. Continuation of that average would mean 1,120 for the four years.

Disclosure of these plans came from J. Lee Rankin, assistant attorney general, who heads a small staff of legal experts who handle all presidential orders.

Rankin testified his group has no control over the number of presidential orders but merely reviews them as to form and legality.

He also reminded the senators that Congress itself had directed the President to use executive orders in a large number of fields and "we check each order and see to it that the order is within the area that Congress has approved."

Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash) asked if the President or other executive officials could not issue an order even if the legal experts questioned it.

"They could, but they don't," Rankin replied.

"We do not turn the White House requests for advice down very often," Rankin told the senator. "You can understand why."

Senators learned there had been a great increase in presidential executive orders since 1900, with less than 100 recorded previously.

Part of this increase is because earlier presidents often issued orders informally by merely approving a letter from a cabinet officer.

More recently the presidential orders have been given serial numbers and are carefully listed in the State Department.

The late President Franklin D. Roosevelt issued 3,772 in his more than 12 years in the White House.

Totals by other recent presidents include: 903 by Truman, 1,004 by Hoover, 1,248 by Coolidge, 484 by Harding, 1,770 by Wilson, 599 by William H. Taft and 1,770 by Theodore Roosevelt.

IN THE SERVICE

Cpl. James H. Stratton

Cpl. and Mrs. James H. Stratton and daughter, Pamela Joyce, have spent the past 10 days in Salem with Cpl. Stratton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wonner of E. Sixth St. The corporal has left for Seattle, Wash., for assignment to overseas duty.

Cpl. Stratton entered the service five years ago at Camp Breckinridge, Ky., and in 1948 he was sent to Guam where he served 18 months. After Guam he was returned to the states and duty at Fort Lee, Va., where he was stationed for four years. He reenlisted after being out of the service for a short time and he was sent to Fort Meade, Md., and re-assigned to Korea. A truck driver, he is with the transportation corps.

Mrs. Stratton, who married the corporal when she was a Wac at Fort Lee, will stay with his family here while he is overseas. She is the former Arlene Fern Ballieu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Ballieu of Hot Springs, S. D. She and her daughter plan to leave the last of this week to visit her parents for three weeks.

Jack E. Scullion, 251 N. Ellsworth Ave., was recently promoted to corporal while serving in Korea with the 226th Signal Service Company.

The 226th is part of the Korean Base Section which furnished support to UN forces by providing services, supplies, transportation and communications.

Scullion, who arrived in Korea in November 1951, holds the UN Service Ribbon and the Korean Service Ribbon.

He attended high school in Salem and was employed as a truck driver for the Salem Tool Co. before entering the Army 22 months ago. Scullion is in the power maintenance section of the signal unit.

LEGAL NOTICE

Naomi E. Johnson, whose last-known place of residence is the Dunbar Hotel, city of Los Angeles, California, will take notice that on March 25, 1953, Raymond Johnson filed his petition against her in the Court of Common Pleas of Columbiana County, Ohio, praying for a divorce, alimony, and relief, on the ground of gross neglect of duty.

It is alleged in said petition that the parties are the owners of the following described real estate:

Situated in the Township of Perry, County of Columbiana, and State of Ohio and known as and being Lots No. 19, 20, 21, 23, 24 and 25 in the Salem Heights First Addition to said township.

Situated in the City of Salem, State of Ohio and being lots No. 440 and 441 and the same are numbered on the recorded plat of Zadok Streets Addition to said city.

The said Raymond Johnson prays that Naomi E. Johnson's interest in said real estate be appropriated and awarded him as and for alimony.

Said cause will be for hearing on and after the 7th day of May, 1953.

Holmes L. Alman

Holmes L. Alman, a brother-in-law of Joseph and Thomas Reese of Salem, and a former Salem resident, died at his home in Hunting Park, Calif., Friday.

Mr. Alman had lived here for 20 years and was an associate in the Reese Coal Company before he moved to California.

Survivors include: his wife, Ceridriven Reese Alman, a son William Alman at home and a daughter, Mrs. Betty Salisburg, of San Diego, Calif.

Funeral service will be held at the Forest Lawn Park Cemetery in California Monday afternoon.

Charles M. Carnes

Charles Milton Carnes, 73, of RD 2, Leetonia, died Saturday at 8:15 a.m. in his home after an illness of one year.

Born in Washingtonville Oct. 8, 1879, he was the son of Melvan and Catherine Carpenter Carnes

A farmer, he was a member of Midway Grange and St. Jacobs Reformed Church, where he was teacher of the Men's Bible Class. He also served on the Leetonia Board of Education.

Survivors include his wife, Mary Carnes, whom he married May 28, 1908; two sons, Charles M. of Brookfield and Frank of RD 2, Leetonia; one daughter, Mrs. Oland Baker of Elkton, and seven grandchildren.

Funeral service will be in charge of Rev. E. D. Fager, pastor of St. Jacobs Church, Monday at 2:30 p.m. in the Woods Funeral Home in Leetonia. Burial will be in Oakdale cemetery.

Friends may call Sunday afternoon and evening at the funeral home.

Mrs. Clyde McElroy

COLUMBIANA — Mrs. Sarah E. McElroy, 64, of 304 Union St., died at the Salem City Hospital Friday at 8:35 p.m. of complications.

She lived in East Palestine and Wellsville before she came to Columbiana nine months ago.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ady.

Mrs. McElroy was a member of the Christian Church of Wellsville.

She is survived by her husband, Clyde McElroy, whom she married Aug. 8, 1914; one daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Schaal of Columbiana, and two grandchildren.

Also surviving are: three sisters, Mrs. Floyd Rager of East Liverpool, Mrs. Bessie Milligan of Woodsfield, O., and Mrs. Audry Long of Spartanburg, S. C.; and a brother, Everett Ady of Comeron, O.

Funeral services will be held on Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the Fry Funeral Home with Rev. J. F. Baxter of the Columbiana Christian Church officiating. Interment will be at Midway Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Jane Emch

Miss Blanche Fulton of N. Broadway has received word of the death Thursday of her sister, Mrs. Jane Fulton Emch, in Los Angeles, Calif.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Damon Vaughn

Damon Vaughn, 60, of 1383 E. State St. died at the Salem City Hospital at 10:40 p. m. Friday. He had been ill for three days.

He was born in Washingtonville Dec. 14, 1892, a son of George and Martha Andrews Vaughn.

He lived in Salem since 1940, coming here from East Liverpool. He was employed at the Mullins Manufacturing Corp. for 16 years.

Surviving are his wife, Laura; two sons, Robert and William, both of Salem, and two grandchildren; his mother, Mrs. Martha Vaughn of Washingtonville; one sister, Mrs. Elmer Johnson of Salem; two brothers, Samuel of Wyoming and Andrew of Salem.

Funeral services will be held at the Stark Memorial at 2 p.m. Tuesday. Interment will be at Spring Hill Cemetery in Wellsville.

Friends may call at the Memorial Monday afternoon and evening.

Vogelhuber Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. Dorothy Zeck Vogelhuber, 34, a former Salem resident who died suddenly in Alexandria, Va. at 2:30 a.m. Friday of a brain hemorrhage, will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church, with the pastor, Rev. John Bauman, officiating.

Interment will be in Grandview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Stark Memorial Sunday evening.

A daughter of Michael and Mary Fleischer Zeck of 468 S. Broadway, she was born in Salem Jan. 8, 1919.

A Salem High School graduate, she was married to George C. Vogelhuber Feb. 16, 1946. They resided in Washington, D. C.

She was a member of the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church of Alexandria, Va.

Survivors, in addition to her husband and parents are: her daughter, Sharon Lynn at the home in Washington D.C.; five brothers, Richard and Gus of Canton, Robert of Cleveland, Fred of Elyria, O., and A-2C William Zeck of Scott Air Force Base, Ill.

Also surviving are six sisters, Mrs. Louise McConn of Mystic, Conn., Mrs. Alma Holzinger of Salem, Mrs. Helen Woodward of San Bernardino, Calif., Mrs. Esther Faulk of Leavittsburg, and Mary and Ruth Zeck at home.

Farmer

plague the farmer, too, so that often it's pretty hard for him to get his proportionate share of the consumer's dollar. A skidding farm market is a current worry.

—:—

OTHER INTERESTING facts brought out at the meeting were:

That dairying is the No. 1 industry.

That the orchardist has one of the most hazardous occupations from an economic standpoint.

That three cents of the price paid for a loaf of bread represents the farmer's return for his grain.

That heavy acreage and increased productivity is the only way for a potato grower to succeed.

That the frying chicken and egg marketing business is highly specialized; that it costs 24 cents to produce one pound of chicken.

That volume spells the difference between success and failure in marketing vegetables.

That tomatoes rank next to potatoes in public consumption; corn is fourth.

That one-third of the raw materials used in industry are produced on the farms.

That there are 3,028 farms in Columbiana County, with 1,884 of the farms having 50 or more acres.

That tractors on county farms have increased from 880 in 1940 to 2,615 in 1950.

And, that Columbiana County is first among the counties in Ohio in apple production, and 41st in the nation.

OKAYS NARCOTICS PROBE

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche Friday signed a bill authorizing the Ohio attorney general to study operation of laws to combat illegal use of narcotics. It calls upon the attorney general to recommend changes in the law by Jan. 31.

3 MIGs Blasted By Sabre Jets

3 Others Reported Damaged Over Korea

SEOUL (AP)—U. S. Sabre jets blasted three Communist MIG's out of the North Korean sky in a swirling air battle shortly before dusk today, the Fifth Air Force announced.

Three other MIG's were reported damaged, but the claims have not yet been confirmed by gun camera films.

On the ground, two Chinese Communist companies, about 350 men, drove tough South Korean infantrymen off shell-pitted Texas Hill, the Central Front peak which has changed hands nine times in the past week.

The Fifth Air Force said the three MIG's shot down were bagged by Col. John Mitchell of Enid, Miss.; Lt. Col. George Ruddell of Eugene, Ore., and Lt. Thomas Kozak of Cleveland, O.

Hurl Counter Attacks

South Korean defenders of Texas Hill hurled two counterattacks against the key knob after dawn but both were beaten back, an Eighth Army briefing officer said. The second attack carried the South Koreans to the top, but 15 minutes later they were forced to pull back.

The Chinese attacked with burp guns, hand grenades, mortar and artillery less than 12 hours after losing the hill in the furious see-saw battle which has raged almost continuously since Sunday.

Exchange

Scores of helicopters and ambulances were readied for the job of transporting them.

Most of the Allied sick and wounded will be rushed to their homes by plane immediately after they cross the line, if they are able to travel. The others will be taken to hospitals in Japan. The Americans among the latter will go to Tokyo and Yokohama.

The exchange must be completed within 20 days after it starts. It must begin not later than April 21 and can start earlier.

Besides the 120 Americans, there are 20 British, 15 Canadians, Turks, Greeks and Dutch and about 450 South Koreans in the group the Communists will release.

The Allies will give up 5,100 North Koreans and 700 Chinese at the rate of 500 daily. The Communist rate will be 100 men daily.

The U. N. Command is exchanging almost 10 prisoners for each one returned by the Communists principally because the Allies hold many times more prisoners. In addition, many Chinese and North Korean POWs are suffering from tuberculosis and are qualified for exchange as sick and wounded.

The Communists have said they hold approxmately 13,000 prisoners, including 3,198 Americans. The U. N. holds about 132,000 North Koreans and Chinese Reds.

Observers at this advance U. N. camp were openly hopeful that completion of the sick and wounded exchange agreement will lead to a truce in Korea. They pointed out that if both sides could agree on nine points for exchanging disabled captives in less than four hours, of conference time they should be able to agree on the remaining eight paragraphs of the armistice draft.

Officials agreed that Red peace overtures should be studied carefully. But they also agreed that if the Communists sincerely want an armistice they will get one.

Brosius Merger With Cladmetals Proposed

The proposed merger of two Pittsburgh district companies, Salem-Brosius, Inc. of Salem and Pittsburgh and American Cladmetals Co. of Carnegie, Pa., was announced today by a joint statement of the boards of directors.

The contemplated move is subject to stockholders' approval The name of the new enterprise will remain, Salem-Brosius, Inc., and Salem-Brosius activities will continue with no changes in management or personnel. American Cladmetals will also keep its present staff and operate as a division of the company.

Wilbur E. Johnson, president of American Cladmetals, stated that joining with a highly successful furnace engineering and steel mill equipment manufacturer will bring to his company diversification and special engineering skills which it never before possessed.

Ward A. Wickwire, Jr., president of Salem-Brosius, commented that the merger will bring to his organization added manufacturing facilities for service to the steel industry.

Park Fireplace Damaged By Boys

Two Salem boys were turned over to juvenile authorities by Salem police Friday night after they admitted damaging a fireplace in one of the Centennial Park pavilions.

The boys said they attempted to pull a grill out of the fireplace to cook some wieners and that several of the bricks were dislodged by their efforts.

Work Resumes Monday On Route 62 Project

Work is expected to be resumed in earnest Monday on completion of the Route 62 highway improvement between Westville and Alliance.

Wet weather hos hindered the job, V. P. Grimes, project engineer for the state highway department, said.

The General Asphalt Co. is scheduled to have the road finished by July 31. The W. M. Brode Co. which is erecting the new Pennsylvania Railroad bridge at the Homeworth Road intersection, has until Dec. 31 to complete its contract.

military leaders "conducted everything as they have this ammunition shortage, the country can have no confidence of security." Byrd followed this up in his interview by saying there was some excuse for failure to get ammunition production going in the first six months of the war. He conceded at that time there was a general feeling the war would be a short one.
